CITY TRUSTEES

No Reduction in Price of Gas—Sunset Company will Put Wires Under Ground—Digest of City Officials' Reports

All members present. Routine business was transacted including a long list of demands for previous month. Reports of various officials were received and referred. The city attorney in his report recommended that the board pass an ordinance in regard to controlling the operating of street cars, requiring that each car have both a motorman and a conductor. A communication was received from residents living near Salt Lake depot, protesting against establishing a fertilizer factory in that neighborhood. Trustee Lane said that protestants were unduly alarmed; in the first place the factory wherever established was not objectionable, and in the second place, it had been located elsewhere. Communication filed.

A communication was read from the gas company regretting that it could not at present make any reduction in the price of gas. Mr. Lane thought the matter should be pushed, as other communities are getting 90-cent gas. No action was taken.

A communication was read from Mabel L. Tight, petitioning for the abandonment of an alley near Third and Glendale avenue, and proposing to give other property for alley purposes. On motion of Mr. Watson the engineer was instructed to draw up the necessary resolution of intention. Manager of electric light department reported having a communication from the Sunset Telephone Co., agreeing to take all wires from Fourth street between Central and Adams street. The ordinance requiring the covering of reservoirs was taken up for third reading and adopted. The matter of election for consolidation of the cities of Glendale and Tropic, came up and a resolution calling for such election on Dec. 16 next was read and adopted.

Question of milk and dairy inspection was brought up and the city attorney requested to prepare an ordinance providing for the same. Mr. Lane brought up the matter of the establishing of street grades in the recently annexed territory west of Central avenue and made a motion that the engineer be instructed to prepare the profiles and recommend grades. The motion was adopted. The clerk was instructed to make application to the county supervisors for the amount of money collected and to be collected since the date of annexation election, from the territory annexed. The matter of a change in details of the work on the city hall, substituting a quantity of blue brick for red, occupied considerable time during the evening. Both architect and contractor were heard on the subject and finally a motion made by Mr. Lane to make the change suggested, which consists of putting blue brick veneer on west side at extra cost of $137.80 was adopted. The city marshal was instructed to notify the peanut permit-bulator on Fourth street opposite the P. E. depot, vacate the street. The city clerk was instructed to advertise (for the third time) for a motorcycle for the marshal.

BUILDING INSPECTOR.

Building permits issued 29; total valuation $37,450. This includes $6500 for city hall. Two dwellings for $3000 each. One for $2500; one for $2400; four for $2000; one for $1800; two for $1500, and three for $1000.

REAL ESTATE AND BUILDING.

Edward & Wilkey of Los Angeles are beginning work on opening a 20-acre tract west of the W. Glendale school. Several streets will be graded, oiled, sidewalked and culbed. Bungalow—Herma C. and Stanley L. Collum, owners; L. B. Burck Co., contractors. 1-story, 6-room frame bungalow on Sixth street near Pacific avenue; $2280.

Eagle Rock—The proposition to build a $40,000 hotel has been temporarily abandoned by the promoter because of lack of support by local business men. The promoter declares that the hotel will be built later. Architects, Train & Williams, Los Angeles, had prepared sketches.

Among the permits issued since November 1st are the following:
C. J. Wandels, 700 West Ninth street, a $3000 bungalow.
Margaret DeWitt, Patterson avenue west of Brand, $2400, residence.
F. L. DeNormandie, 621 Glendale avenue, $1100 cottage.

J. O. McLane, Ninth and Louise, $1100 cottage.

Jas. Dale, Hawthorne west of Central, $1200 bungalow.

S. M. Collum, 1543 West Sixth street, cottage, $1500.

B. Lovelace, H. J. Chambers, contractor, Third and Louise, cottage, $2000.

M. H. Farner, Glendale avenue and Oak street, residence, $1600.

A. P. Offutt is putting a $500 addition to his store on Fourth street.

The Glendale Sanitarium is remodeling and enlarging its gymnasium hall at an expense of $2000.

Mr. C. B. Cunningham has moved into his newly completed house on Chestnut street between Central and Brand. The residence is a very attractive one of the bungalow type.

D. B. Dungan has bought two lots on Seventh street between Louise and Kenwood streets; one of the lots is a house which he is remodeling, and he will build on the other.

TUESDAY AFTERNOON CLUB.

The club will hold their meeting Tuesday afternoon, Nov. 14, in Filger Opera House, 570 West Fourth street. This is charter day and the members are urged to bring in applications for membership, as the club is desirous of at least doubling its membership during the year. The instructive and entertaining program, as announced in the Year Book, will amply repay one for joining. The business session will be at 2:30, and the program at 3 o'clock. Dr. Robert J. Burdette will give his lecture "Good Medicine." Special music. Miss Winifred Jones will play one of her original compositions which she has dedicated to Dr. Burdette. Vocal solos, Mrs. W. H. West with violin obligato by Julius Kranz. Violin solos, Julius Kranz. Mrs. Matison B. Jones, accompanist.

The public invited. Non-club members 25 cents admission.

LECTURE COURSE ANNOUNCEMENT.

The following five events will be given in Glendale at Filger's hall during the winter:

"The Fine Art of Living," Dr. Matt. S. Hughes, Nov. 10.

"Smiles," Dr. Wesley K. Beans, Dec. 5.

"The Sunny Side of Life," Dr. Chas. E. Lock, Jan. 16.

The U. S. C. Glee Club, Feb. 2.

"The Evolution of American Living," Prof. Tully C. Knoles, Feb. 20.

Season tickets for the entire course of five events will be sold for one dollar. Single tickets 25 cents.

CHRISTIAN CHURCH.

Rev. J. W. Utter will preach morning and evening. Subject of morning sermon, "Can One Be Saved Outside the Church?" Christian Endeavor at 6:30. Preaching in evening at 7:30.

EVANGELICAL LUTHERAN CHURCH.

Sunday school and preaching at Odd Fellows Hall, Sunday next, at 10 a. m. and 11 a. m., respectively. Rev. J. W. Ball of Los Angeles will preach.

CONGREGATIONAL CHURCH.

Services are held in the K. of P. hall, Brand boulevard, Sunday school at 10:00 o'clock and preaching at 11:00. The sermon topic will be "The Glory of the Common." Rev. E. H. Willisford is the speaker.

Last Friday the ladies organized themselves into an organization to be known as "The Woman's Auxiliary." Any woman interested in the work of the church can become a member. The following were elected as officers: Mrs. E. H. Willisford, president; Mrs. Geo. Adams, vice president; Mrs. Westwood, secretary; Mrs. A. Lucas Smith, treasurer; chairman of the social committee, Mrs. R. A. Petersen, of the mission committee, Mrs. W. F. Nash, of the visiting committee, Mrs. E. D. Ward, and of the work committee, Mrs. Page. The auxiliary will meet on the second Tuesday of each month. It met with Mrs. R. A. Petersen, 437 Adams street, Thursday.

Revs. Ralph and C. S. Billings of Los Angeles were in Glendale the other day to consult with Mr. Willisford in regard to the work.

FIRST BAPTIST CHURCH.

Corner Isabel and Third Streets.

Sunday school assemblies each Sunday morning at 9:30. Be on time.

The Woman's Aid Society will meet to sew with Miss E. S. Goff, 316 Belmont street, this week Friday, from 10:00 a. m. to 4:00 p. m.

The Do All You Can Missionary Society of young people will hold its monthly meeting at the home of Miss Genevieve Hofer, 1430 Milford street, this week Friday evening at 8 o'clock. All young people are invited.

The midweek meeting for prayer and praise is held each Wednesday at 7:30 o'clock at the church, to which everyone is invited.

Next Sunday evening the pastor will continue the series of sermons on "My Hand," begun last Sunday. The subject suggested by the index finger will be "Purposeness." You are invited.

Next Sunday morning the pastor will have a special message to the people of our community in his sermon on "The Making of a Citizen." In it he will read extracts of a letter written to the pastor by a prominent man, an ex-governor of one of the New England states, who has recently died. A cordial invitation is extended to all.

FIRST METHODIST CHURCH.

The pastor will speak Sunday morning on "Great Difficulties." In the evening Dr. F. D. Mather, district superintendent, will preach.

The new bungalow for the Junior department of the Sunday school will be ready for occupancy. We now have room for all departments of the Sunday school. New scholars are required every Sunday. If you have not been coming will look for you next Sunday.

W. G. Watson will lead the class meeting Sunday at 12 m. "The Injunction with the Invitation" is the Epworth League subject. Rev. 22:1; Dan. 12:3. Thos. Watson, leader.

"Receiving the Holy Spirit," is the prayer meeting subject Wednesday night. We are having large attendance and splendid meetings. "Come forth with us and we will do these things."

Epworth League business meeting Tuesday. Election of officers.

The new mission study class will also meet at this time.

Methodist Brotherhood will meet Thursday night.

Sabbath Bible school convention of the Methodist church at Burbank next Thursday night to Friday night inclusive. Experts will be present.

Four united with the church last Sunday. There are large congregations at all the services. We invite you to worship with us.

WHERE TO REGISTER.

Three new deputy registrars have been appointed. They are Mrs. Lula Grosvener of 1451 Hawthorne, Mrs. T. W. Doyle of 891 South Glendale, and Dr. Jessie A. Russell of 525 Maryland avenue. These officials are ready at any time to register either at their homes or to meet several people at some appointed place.

Any one who has not registered may do so any time before midnight of November 15th, and still vote on the annexation proposition. This is a simple voting proposition and easy to understand and will be an excellent opportunity to gain a little experience before more complicated affairs occur.

All women desiring to register may do so on Saturday next, Nov. 11, between 12 m. and 5 p. m., at the building corner of Howard and Fourth streets, at which time a woman deputy will be in attendance.

MONTHLY BULLETIN OF THE CALIFORNIA DEVELOPMENT BOARD, OCT. 31, 1911.

The California Development board is following up its recent exhibit successes at Turin, Italy, by preparing California's car in the "Governor's Special," a train carrying the governors of nine western states, together with elaborate exhibits of the resources of the West, over a circuit of twenty-eight eastern cities. The train will be received in Washington, D. C., by President Taft, and on its way through the east will be welcomed by governors and mayors of cities.

Mr. Francis Hope, representing the California Development Board at Eastern Land Shows, is meeting with great success. The California-Burbank exhibit is attracting widespread attention.

The California farmers view with satisfaction the results of the season now closing. There has been no general failure of any crop, while some of the many products of the soil have given very bountiful returns, and with it all the grower has been able to market them at good prices. This combination has made conditions throughout the state very favorable to the extension of areas of field and orchard and enlargement of industrial facilities on every hand.

Sales of large tracts of land and subdivision for colonization purposes are reported from every quarter with prices always having an upward tendency.

The colonist travel for the season is said by the railroad men to be the largest on record, nearly 6000 arriving on the 18th inst in Los Angeles, and a large number in other sections of the state.

Exact figures of production of the various crops cannot yet be had, but the estimates for barley, potatoes, onions, beans, hops, walnuts, olives, etc., indicate record yields in most cases.

Growers are getting a fifty-cent advance on sugar beets on account of the high saccharine content. The output of the factories will be a record one this year and the acreage for next year much enlarged.

Fruit drying and canning is about over, except for tomatoes, which will continue until the rains interfere. The market is strong and prices very good.

Shipments of cotton from Imperial Valley are going forward daily. The local mill at Calexico will handle from twenty to thirty bales daily.

Shipments of deciduous fruits to the East are yet 127 carloads short of last year.

Citrus shipments for the season about to end were 46,134 carloads up to the 23rd inst. Large additions to acreage are being made. Making the new crop has already begun. All sections promise large crops and of fine quality.

Electric power, mining and oil development are active and engaging large capital.

The Dutch Oil Syndicate has secured a franchise and contemplates erecting a large refining plant at Martinez.

The secretary of state reports 1897 registrations of auto vehicles for September.

The Panama-Pacific International Exposition will be held in San Francisco in 1915.

The Panama-California Exposition will be held in San Diego in 1915.

THE S. P. SNOW SHEDS.

Thirty-five miles of snow sheds over the summit of the Sierra Nevada mountains costing an average of $203,615 each year to maintain and to protect from fires, is the record shown from a recent compilation of the operating expenses of this important part of the Southern Pacific lines. The average of $203,615 was reached by the use of the operating expenses for the years 1907, 1908, 1909 and 1910.

On account of fires in the snow sheds the annual expense is placed at $46,565. Renewals on account of wear are placed at a little more than $67,000. The repairs to the snow sheds cost an average of more than $40,000 annually. They will be much heavier this year on account of the heavy storms of last winter. Patrolling and watching the sheds cost $25,000 annually, and $24,000 is set against the item of fire trains.

There are 35 miles of these sheds and the company maintains a complete fire fighting organization, but notwithstanding this the loss by fire in the four years mentioned amounted to $186,262. It is estimated that to replace the sheds would cost two and a quarter million dollars.

SIXTH STREET PARENT-TEACHER ASSOCIATION.

The association will meet on Friday at 3:15 in the school building. The address of the day will be made by Mrs. Laird Stabler who will speak on the "Rights of the Child." A special invitation is extended to all who are interested in this line of work.

Rev. J. W. Utter has completed his evangelistic campaign in Alhambra, with the usual result, the establishment of a church of the Christian denomination. The church building is to be erected on Thanksgiving day, when it is expected that enough workmen will volunteer to put up the structure, all but the finishing touches.

Miss Clara Wooden, a graduate nurse of the local sanitarium, has been the guest for the past week of her friend, Mrs. C. E. Clay, 1517 Ivy street. Miss Wooden intends to leave for Chicago in a few days, where she will be the guest of relatives throughout the winter.

AT THE HIGH SCHOOL

This is the third year of occupation of the present High School building. The first year's average attendance was 179, last year 206, and this year there are 279 enrolled, with a probability of reaching the 300 mark before the end of the term.

The reception given Friday evening last week to the patrons was a great success. Counting the pupils in, there were about five hundred present. Visitors were shown through the building and served with punch under the direction of the pupils in the domestic science department. At 8:15 there was a half hour's musical program, consisting of numbers by the orchestra, girls' glee club and boys' quartette. Later in the evening the visitors heard selections on the Victrola and mandolin. It is the object of the faculty in these receptions to not only acquaint the patrons with the work being done and the capabilities of the building, but to emphasize the possibilities of the school as a social center as well.

A week ago Friday the first musical programme of the year was given in the auditorium, with all of the pupils and a large number of patrons present. The musical organizations of the school were assisted by Viola Forbes and Owen Emery. The musical work being done in the school is being given additional emphasis in order to keep up with the new departures in that line being adopted in the other schools of the state. The Normal School is putting in a new course, and the State University accepts it. The Normal course, which can be duplicated in the High School, aims to fit the stronger pupils for the work of superintending music in the schools.

The domestic science and the sewing departments each have about forty pupils, and it is impossible to accommodate all who would like to take these courses. The same limitation applies to the sloyd department, where there are thirty-five pupils. In the commercial department are thirty-five pupils, and about one hundred are taking the music course.

Among the latest enrollments are Cecelia Petersen of West Glendale, who recently returned from abroad and takes up the work again; Eliza Russell, in the eleventh year, who since September, until coming here, was a pupil in the Kansas City school; Doris Ingledue, from Huntington Park, and Dorothy Morgan, from Santa Monica.

IN NEW QUARTERS.

The Gregg hardware store, after much delay caused by the unfinished condition of the building, is now in smooth running order in the new block, corner of Fourth and Brand, occupying the entire north end of the block. The store room is one of the largest in town, and the shelves are well filled with a complete assortment of goods attractively displayed. Back of the store room the entire lot, except a few feet in the rear, is covered by a concrete foundation, much of it roofed in for storage purposes, affording ample room in which to handle a steadily growing business. The proprietor, David L. Gregg, although a comparatively new comer, has evidently settled down in Glendale to stay, and in many ways has proved himself a public-spirited citizen of the kind that build up the city.

BAND CONCERTS.

A beautiful moonlight evening, with a pleasing temperature and good music by the Glendale band, proved a strong combination and attracted one of the best crowds of the season to the open air concert on the Fourth street band stand last Thursday evening. The concert was proving a great success, and should be enjoyed by all who can attend them.

Odd Marriage Notices.
Here are some quaint old time marriage notices that have been dug up by the Springfield Union:
In Bozrah, August, 1819, Mr. John Bate of Williamstown, Mass., to Miss Mary Ann Bass of the former place, after a courtship of one hour.
Is not this angling well, I ask,
Such tender bait to take?
He caught in one small hour a Bass.
The Bass, though, caught the Bate.
Married, at Bridgewater, Dec. 16, 1788, Captain Thomas Baxter of Quincy, aged sixty-six, to Miss Whitman of the former place, aged fifty-eight years, after a long and tedious courtship of forty-eight years, which they both sustained with uncommon fortitude.
In Boston, April, 1821, by the Rev. William Sabine, Joseph Willcutt to Miss Susan Whitmarsh, after a tedious courtship of thirteen days, and but thirty-five days after the death of his former wife.
The best way, it seems, a deep sorrow to smother.
For the loss of a wife is to marry another.

Heatstroke and Sunstroke.
Heatstroke and sunstroke are terms usually applied indifferently to either of two quite distinct conditions, to each of which only one of the names properly applies. Heatstroke, as its name implies, is a condition caused by the action of excessive heat, either the torrid heat of summer or the artificial heat of a foundry, a furnace, the stove, hole of a steamship, etc. It occurs with almost as great frequency at night as in the day, and its victims may be overcome on a cloudy day or without having ventured from their homes. The other form, properly called sunstroke, is due to the direct action of the sun—probably of its ultra violet or chemical rays rather than of its heat rays. Only those who have been long exposed to the direct rays of the sun, such as soldiers on the march, harvesters, ball players, etc., are the subjects of true sunstroke.—Dr. T. L. Steadman in Good Housekeeping.

Responsive Flowers.
Karlstrom says flowers have understanding and know when persons care for them. He says they respond to a loving touch and to a caress. The Swedish collector together flowers as fastidiously as he walks through his greenhouse and insists they have a language for those who understand. He points to a flower with drooping head and says it is calling for water. In different ways, he explains, flowers ask for light, warmth, sunshine, and when satisfied the flowers lift up their heads buoyantly and express the pure joy of being. Karlstrom advises the study of flowers through magnifying glasses, saying their beauty is not half appreciated otherwise. A flower under the glass, he asserts, reveals remarkable beauty and if taken to pieces discloses wonders never appreciated.—New York Press.

A Sensitive Horse.
Harsh treatment, though it stop short of inflicting physical pain, keeps a nervous horse in a state of misery. A single blow may be enough to spoil a racer. Daniel Lambert, founder of the Lambert branch of the Morgan family, was thought as a three-year-old to be the fastest trotting stallion of his day. He was a very handsome, stylish, intelligent horse and also extremely sensitive. His driver, Dan Mace, though one of the best trainers in America, once made the mistake, through ill temper or bad judgment, of giving Daniel Lambert a severe cut with the whip, and that single blow put an end to his usefulness as a trotter. He became wild and ungovernable in harness and remained so for the rest of his life.

How Kangaroos Fight.
Kangaroos are distributed over all parts of Queensland. The "old man," or fully grown male, is mostly found on downs and in open forest country. An "old man" sometimes grows to the height of six feet and when hunted into a rocky gorge or corner will turn and face its pursuer. It is a formidable adversary at close quarters. Its mode of fighting is to clasp its enemy in its arms, hug him to its breast and then with its powerful hind claws rip him open.

Turn About.
"Papa says if I give up my singing lessons he will present me with a pair of diamond earrings."
"You have never worn earrings, have you?"
"No, I should have to have my ears pierced."
"Ah, yes! I see his idea. He wants to pay you back in your own coin!"

A Dubious Compliment.
Dobby was showing off his baby. "Think he looks like me, Silthiers?" he asked.
"Well—no," said Silthiers, looking at the youngster critically. "He's a queer looking little cuss all right, but I shouldn't go as far as to say that he looks like you."—Judge.

Woman's Woe.
As soon as a married woman gets 990 saved up she becomes oppressed by the thought that she is merely accumulating a fortune for the second wife to spend.—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Our Near Neighbors.
Mother: "Don't you know, darling, that we are commanded to love our neighbors? Little One—Yes, an' I s'pose that's 'cause we can get along with most everybody else.—Exchange.

It is far better to be innocent than penitent, to prevent the malady than invent the remedy.—Becker.

Mark Twain Heeded the Voice.
Mark Twain was quite at his best as an after dinner speaker at the banquet given in his honor some years ago by the members of the Authors' club. Incidentally he told his amused listeners the story of his first lapse from the paths of honesty: He was very young at the time, he explained, and the day was an exceedingly hot one. As he walked down the street of the village in which he was living he saw a cart loaded with melons of most attractive appearance.
"It is with regret I mention," Mark Twain went on, with a humorous twinkle in his eyes, "that I was tempted and I fell. I grabbed the most likely looking melon of the lot and hurriedly made my way to the back of the woodshed. I gouged a huge slice out of it and bit it. No sooner had I done so when something within me convinced me that I had done wrong. A voice seemed to say, 'Mark, get up and take that melon right back to where you got it from.' It was about the greenest melon I had ever tasted. I went back to the cart and carefully replaced it and took a ripe one in its place."—Boston Traveler.

Curious Old Legend.
Here is a curious legend of Cologne. Once upon a time there was a burgomaster of the town whose wife died and was buried. In the evening thieves, seeking to take jewels from the dead, opened the coffin. Now it happened that the woman was not dead, but in a trance, and when the thieves broke into her burial place she awoke and went to her home. There she called a servant, who ran in fear to his master and told him what had happened. The scared burgomaster replied to this, "I would sooner believe that my horses were looking out of the top floor window than believe that such a thing could be." Scarcely had the words left his mouth than he heard horses galloping up the stairs. In memory of this and of the return of his wife he had two horses' heads in stone set in a top floor window of his house, where they remain to this day.

A Real Patriot.
"Let's see," said the lawyer who had met an out of town acquaintance on a street car, according to the New Orleans Picayune, "doesn't your town soon hold an election?"
"It does."
"And I suppose you take a lively interest in it?"
"Well, not too lively—not as lively as I used to."
"Interest falling off, eh? Didn't you run for mayor two or three years ago?"
"I have run for mayor of my town seven successive times, sir."
"And been—been—"
"Been defeated every time, sir."
"Then you probably won't run again?"
"That's uncertain. I am going to inquire around and find if I am really the man they want. If I am, then I'll take the candidacy; if not, then I will try to defeat the man they do want."

The Line of Life.
The line of life curves from the side of the hand between the thumb and forefinger around the base of the thumb to the center of the wrist joint. According to chiromancy (the pretended art of judging the character and foretelling the fortune of a person from the aspect of the hand), if this line in the left palm is regular and deeply colored it predicts a long and happy life; tortuous, colorless, feebly marked and broken it announces ill health and short life; narrow, but long and well colored, it indicates wisdom and ingenuity; broad and pale it is a sign of folly; deep and unequally colored it denotes malice.—New York Telegram.

Coronation Gift.
The practice of running the fountain and conduits with wine on coronation day was abandoned after the reign of Queen Elizabeth, but another old custom was observed up to the coronation of George IV. After the king and the company had departed from the banquet in Westminster hall the doors were thrown open, and the people rushed in and cleared the tables of everything—victuals, cloths, plates, dishes, etc., all vanished in a few minutes. And, as Sir Walter Scott tells us, the nobility were not above taking away the saltcellars and spoons.

An Office Cushion.
If those of you who have a husband or brother or sister working in an office will go to the trouble of making a fat cushion for the chair of the worker you will find that it saves the trousers or skirt from getting "shiny" and also helps to retain the garment in form.—Good Housekeeping.

Speaking Truth.
Speaking truth is like writing fair and comes only by practice. It is less a matter of will than of habit, and I doubt if any occasion can be trivial which permits the practice and formation of such a habit.—Ruskin.

Time to Go.
"Pa, is a vessel a boat?"
"E—yes—you may call it that."
"Well, what kind of a boat is a blood vessel?"
"It's a lifeboat. Now run away to bed."—Boston Transcript.

Not Fast.
"I understand," says the father, "that you have been going with a very fast set."
"Fast nothing!" retorts the son.
"Why, not one of them has a four cylinder car?"—Judge.

The essential thing is not knowledge, but character.—Le Conte.

A Bride and Her Dowry.
The first colonial mint was established in 1612, but it worked only in brass. Forty years later, Massachusetts entered upon the business of coining money.
The Pine Tree shilling is not only a part of the history, but of the romance of the colonies as well. The officers of the mint, or perhaps it would be better to say the mill, from which it was issued were John Hull and Robert Saunderson. They coined for the colony, but exacted a toll for their work, just as the man who ground grain for his neighbors was wont to do. Their profits were said to be enormous, and more than once it was suggested that a new arrangement should be made. They were satisfied, however, to keep at it in the old way.
After John Hull's daughter had been married to Samuel Sewell the old mint master invited all the wedding guests into one of the rooms of his house, where he instructed his daughter to get on to an improvised platform at the end of a pair of steelyards. In a tub at the other side the old man poured Pine Tree shillings until the scales balanced. "There, Sam," he said, "take her and her dowry. It's not every bride that's worth her weight in silver."—Philadelphia Telegraph.

Soft Capped Projectiles.
Many persons know that certain armor piercing shells have soft metal caps on the point, with the result of greater effectiveness over those not so provided, but the way in which the cap acts is not generally well understood. A needle may be driven into a board with a hammer when it is thrust through a cork, whereas it would break off unsupported. Many have thought that the soft cap supports the hard point of the projectile in the same way. A British authority who has given much study to the mutual action of the projectile and armor states that a shell frequently fails because of the fact that a very small piece of the point is forced back into the mass, thus splitting it. A larger piece is then similarly forced back, and so on. The main advantage of the soft cap, in the opinion of this authority, is to prevent such splitting.—Harper's Weekly.

Praise For the Sardine.
It is encouraging in these days, when everything nice is condemned by scientific faddists as nasty, to have the high authority of the London Lancet in support of the popular theory that the sardine is of great dietetic value. The sardine is good, the Lancet tells us, because, for one thing, it encourages the consumption of oil, which tends to avoid "many ills, and especially those associated with wasting diseases and gouty dispositions." This consumption of sardine oil, it adds, "prevents the overloading of the tissues with nitrogenous waste products, and a digestible fat favors nutrition considerably. The sardine supplies also an excellent proportion (25 per cent) of nitrogenous material, and so it becomes a real and economical food. In addition to this the sardine has appetizing qualities, and where appetite serves digestion follows."

When Scotland Had a Navy.
It was James IV. who first created an effective navy for Scotland, exchanging all available timber for ship building, so that he had to ask France and Denmark for more, and of the sixteen large and ten small ships he owned his special pride was the largest then existing. To build this dreadnought of her day all the woods of life were laid waste. She cost £20,000, an enormous sum in those times; had a crew of 300 sailors, 120 gunners and 1,000 marines, with "more grant ordnance in her than the French king ever had to the siege of any town," as James himself boasted.—Westminster Gazette.

The First Phoenix.
Legend tells us that the first phoenix was born in the garden of Eden and had its nest in a great red rose, the first rose that ever bloomed. When the angel drove Adam and Eve out of paradise a spark of fire fell from the angel's fiery sword and burned up the phoenix and his nest. Out of the ashes sprang a glorious bird, which also lived 500 years before mysteriously burning itself, at every recurrence of which a new phoenix is said to arise.

Her Maid.
"So he married a manicurist?"
"Yes."
"Is he happy?"
"I'm afraid not. He complains that she has quit holding his hand and wants to confine herself exclusively to holding the pocketbook."—Chicago Record-Herald.

The Measure of His Intelligence.
Fido's Mistress (sobbing)—"I've lost my dog—my sweet little innocent pet! Friend—I'm so sorry! Have you put an advertisement in the newspaper?" Fido's Mistress—Oh, what would be the use? The poor darling doesn't know how to read!"—Woman's Home Companion.

Invited a Snub.
Clara—I overheard Mr. Bimberly say to a friend the other evening that I was a pretty young lady. Maude—Well, you are pretty young; but, of course, you are growing older each day.—Chicago News.

At the Lowest Point.
Sometimes life's a mighty good thing to be de lower spoke in de wheel up fortune; you jes' bledged to come up, no matter which way de wheel turns.—Cally Ryland.

A man who dares waste an hour of time has not learned the value of life.—Darwin.

Cochineal Insects.
Before many years cochineal scarlet will have become a thing of history only, like the Tyrian purple of antiquity. That is the conclusion of M. Leon Dignet, who has been studying the state of the cochineal industry in Mexico. The first specimens of cochineal were taken to Europe by the Spanish adventurers in the sixteenth century. The Indians had cultivated the coccus cacti, from which the color is derived in pre-Columbian times, and after the Spanish conquest the industry developed rapidly. The city of Oaxaca was the center of the cochineal country in the days of Humboldt, but only a few plantations of the nopal cactus, on which the insects are fed, now remain. The female insects only are used to form a dye, and they are gathered by brushing the branches of the nopal as soon as they begin to lay their eggs. They are then desiccated in ovens or killed with boiling water.

Duel With Horsewhips.
A novel but brutal form of duel between two carters took place at Baja, Hungary. Being both in love with the daughter of the farmer who employed them, they decided to fight for her with their heavy horsewhips, the girl agreeing to act as umpire and accept the winner. In order to insure that there should be no running away, they first fastened themselves to two posts in the ground. The girl gave the signal to begin, and the two men, who were stripped to the waist, began to belabor each other with such fury that long bleeding welts soon covered their faces, arms and bodies. Unable to bear the horrible sight, the girl ran away for help. When she came back with some of the neighbors they found the two men lying on the ground covered with blood, and exhausted. The duel was declared a draw.

A Luscious Morsel.
A speaker at a literary dinner in New York said:
"He who writes for posterity can only expect the approval of posterity. To his own generation his work will be as unpalatable as German carp—and you know the recipe for cooking German carp?"
"No! Well, then, this is it:
"Catch a German carp in a stagnant and muddy stream. Clean it immediately and hang it in the sun three days to dry. After it is thoroughly dried nail it to a spruce board and cover it with a paste of salt and mud. Let it stand two days longer. Now bake it forty-eight hours. Remove the salts, scrape off the salt and mud paste carefully and then eat the board—never eat the carp."

NOTICE OF PUBLIC WORK.

Public notice is hereby given that at its meeting held Monday, September 11, 1911, the Board of Trustees of the City of Glendale adopted an Ordinance, designated as Ordinance No. 744, declaring its intention to make the following improvement to be made, to-wit:

GLENDAL, CAL., NOVEMBER 10, 1911

Eagle Rock has eighty-cent gas, but then they pay more for water than Glendale does, so we will call it square.

It is to be hoped that the jury of twelve good men will finally be selected in the McNamara case, but they seem to be taking chances in excusing
a lot of good ones.

A special session of the legislature
to be called soon is the programme.
This is made necessary by the failure of the last session to put through apportionment bills rendered necessary
by the last census. Other matters will also be included in the call.

Turkey calls upon the United States
to put forth a strong hand and restrain
the barbarities of the Italians in Tripoli.
If we are to play the part of policemen for the world, it would seem
as if here is a good chance to do something for humanity.

The civilized world did not suppose that a revolution in China would be a pink tea and bonbon affair, and is not disappointed in the result. But something better was expected of Italy and the conduct of its soldiers in Tripoli serves to emphasize the fact that the vener of our boasted "Christian civilization" is very thin in spots.

After cogitating over the matter
daytimes and lying awake nights, we have concluded that it is impossible
for us to run this paper in such a way
as to meet the approval of Brother Burch of the Sentinel. This is a discouraging old world in spots, but we shall have to jog along according to our "lights," not speaking anatomically.

The NEWS is pleased to be of service to the world at large, but it becomes monotonous to see items of interest originally appearing in this paper served up in dribbles in the Los Angeles dailies all through the week following the original publication. Our fellow citizens who depend on the Los Angeles papers to keep them informed
as to local matters, are getting much
mental pabulum at second hand.

With his habitual method of going
directly to the source of a matter,
President Taft sent Secretary Fisher
to Alaska to investigate Controller Bay and other questions. The secretary's report, soon to be made public,
will dispel the last doubt as to the wisdom and propriety of the president's actions in matters pertaining to the territory. That precious concoction of scandal and forgery, the "Dear Dick," letter, is already consigned to the limbo of things forgotten.

BUILDING UP A TOWN.

An interesting engineering feat is being performed at Wilmington, the old town on the "inner harbor," three or four miles inland from San Pedro.
The town is naturally about on sea level, but 100 acres of it is being raised from 15 to 7 feet above the ocean; the water front proper to have an elevation of about 15 feet. Mud, sand and water are being pumped upon
the principal streets of the town;
the buildings being lifted up on temporary frame work while the building
up process goes on beneath them.
The sand pumped up dries rapidly and furnishes a solid foundation very quickly. The contract calls for the completion of the work by May 22;
meanwhile Wilmington's name is mud.

REPORT IN ELECTIONS.

The City Club of Los Angeles has taken up the subject of simplifying
and making election less expensive.
As there is a good prospect of elections being matters of more frequent occurrence in the future than they have been in the past, this is one of the subjects in regard to which there is ample room for reform; indeed, the demand for it is becoming imperative.
Our present election system is cumbersome and unnecessarily expensive. In a general election where there is a long and complicated ticket to be counted, the expense at every polling

place is somewhere in the neighborhood of $100. One item is rent and that could be done away with entirely by using school houses for holding elections in. There is a growing sentiment among the people in favor of using the school buildings for public meetings, for although their prime object is the education of the young,
there is no good reason why they should not serve other purposes as well. Then the principal item of expense is the amount paid election officers for their services. The law requires eight election officers, although there is only work for four at a time.
In some states it is permissible for
the vote to be counted every hour and with a force of eight men, it is entirely practicable for one-half of them to be employed on the count; this would not only save expense, but would make it possible to know the result of an election within three or four hours
after the closing of the polls, instead of the count dragging on all through the night and well into the next day.
Another detail that could well be improved upon is the method of advertising elections. The call of the state election under the present system consists of a page or so of matter published in a few favored newspapers
and catches the eyes of comparatively few of the voters. A brief publication announcing in particular the location of the polling place should be made in the local paper of every precinct
when there is one. It is rather singular that voting machines have not been made a practical success. Certainly the counting of the vote by a machine should not be impossible. It is very probable that a desire on the part of politicians in office to have patronage
at their disposal, is somewhat responsible for the reported "unsatisfactory"
working of the machines. There is a chance here for a substantial reform
and it is probable that it will not be long delayed.

THE CHANGE THAT IS NEEDED.

The enemies of society are not found
alone in the ranks of criminal classes,
nor among those who are possessed of a desire to harm their fellowmen. The well meaning enthusiast who lacks
balance and cannot foresee the inevitable effect of a practical application
of his theories of government, may be far more dangerous than the avowed anarchist, for his work is more insidious and dangerous because he de-ceives himself as well as others. Human knowledge works in circles in harmony with human experience. It is over three thousand years since the wise man declared, "There is nothing new under the sun." Every now and then the world flatters itself that it has made some discovery in religion
or the science of government, but a little investigation develops the fact that it is at best only a rediscovery.
The time has not been and probably never will be in a world inhabited by mortals when there will not be wrongs
to be made right, and so long as a large proportion of the people are influenced more by passion and sentiment than by a desire to find the truth wherever it may lead, just so long will that class of citizens be played upon by the self-seeking demagogue and the professional reformer.
And just as long as they are so played
upon, they are a menace to society
whether their motive is good or bad.
Socialism gets its present strength not so much because of the existence of injustice in the world, but because for years past injustice and wrong in general have been exaggerated and exploited to such a degree that the minds of the people have become biased and they see nothing but the evil
of the world, and in their unwisdom
are willing to test the alleged specific of every quack who thinks it is his mission to cure the ills of the body politic. The man with the "muck rake" has gained an undeserved popularity and been far too much before the public eye. The world is not worse than it was although a large
class of people find that it brings them
both popularity and pecuniary gain to exploit the idea that it is. Sometimes individuals and nations seem to require a painful and expensive experience to teach them a lesson of wisdom. It is sincerely to be hoped that such is not the fate in store for the people of this country. It is not necessary to shut our eyes to the undoubted evils of the world nor to cease
to everlastingly struggle against them,
but it is time that the people were led
to see and to dwell upon the higher
and better things in life and yield to a righteous indignation only, which shall impel them to an entirely new endeavor for the betterment of the world. The natural world is as full of beauty as it was in the early morning
of creation; and who can doubt that the stars are as bright as when they "sang together" and acclaimed the work of creation to be well done!

And one human life of today is as full of example and possibilities of high accomplishment as in any of the

the uplift.

The Myosotis Whist Club convened
Tuesday evening at the residence of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Legrande on West Third street. Decorations were of holly boughs and were most effective.
Prizes were awarded Mrs. Fred Fish
and Mr. A. Roberts. Refreshments were served at a late hour and com-

district chairman of legislation.

CORRESPONDENCE

Socialism

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

Why are Catholics opposed to Socialism? Because it ignores God. It acts as if He had no interest in the capital and labor question. Christ said, "He who is not with me, is against me." Socialism is, therefore against Christ.

Because it advocates robbery. It would seize possession of all the means of production. It would take (without compensation) from the present owners all business, all capital,
all land. It is a thief.

Because it would overthrow this government. It would destroy American institutions. It is a traitor.

Because in matters of right and wrong it opposes the church. It sets itself up as the supreme judge of ethics. It will take instruction in justice from no one. It is in morals another Lucifer. It will not serve.

Love of the poor, hatred of oppression, opposition to the miseries of the afflicted, these are not the question.
The poor were helped before Social-
ism. Socialism is a God-defying, Christ-defying, law-defying, thief and traitor.

Rev. James S. O'Neill, pastor.

Editor GLENDALE NEWS:

In your last issue you touch upon
one of the leading topics of the day,
the ever-increasing cost of living,
which would lead one to believe that you endorse the remedy suggested, the getting together and co-operation of the producer and consumer. We do not have to travel far from home to see the benefits that have been and
can still further be derived from cooperation. "New necessities teach
new duties," and to use a common phrase, it is getting up against it that is teaching the people what to do, but I want to whisper a word of warning.
You are treading on dangerous ground,
you are on the outer edge of the Socialist whirlpool and you will get drawn into the vortex if you don't watch out. The middlemen's profits that are creating such a howl is only a small fraction of the waste of capitalism and if you teach the people
how to eliminate that by co-operation
I fear they will not stop there; in fact,
there are no stations or stops on this line until you reach the end and that is universal co-operation, which is Socialism. If you don't agree with this just tell us where you will draw the line and the name of the station you get off at.

There is an awakening that is portentous, and we are about to cut loose
from the superstition and dead issues of the past. This new element that is coming to its own, to political power realizes with a keener realization that
"new occasions teach new duties, time makes ancient good uncouth." She must upward still and onward who would keep abreast of truth." Nor will they attempt the future's portals
with the present blood-rusted key.
R. Gilhouse.

A STRIKING SITUATION IN OLD ENGLAND.

The strike microbe seems to have got into the blood of some of the school children in Liverpool and London, though whether by contagion or infection is uncertain. It is certain,
however, that on the children being released from one of the schools in Liverpool on a Friday afternoon in September, they went on strike, paraded the streets and called upon other schools to "come out in sympathy."
Windows and street lamps were broken along the line of march, and loyal scholars were beaten with sticks. The demands of the strikers, formulated
by one of the leaders were as follows:
"An extra half holiday each week,
abolition of the cane, no school fees
and an increase in the pay of monitors."

Report states that the strike soon
collapsed, the children soon returned
to school, among them the ringleaders,
where they quickly learned that the use of the cane is still in wholesome
operation. On the following Monday, however the strike spirit reached the metropolis where its ravages were much more extensive, and no less than six large public schools in the north of London became the scene of trouble. As many as 100 boys paraded the district, but were quickly brought to reason by a few policemen and caretakers. At many other provincial towns, mostly in the north of England
a number of boys "went out" on strike
and in several cases the youthful miscreants carried "ammunition" in the shape of stones and other missiles. At Sheffield some of the strikers threw stones at a lady teacher as she was getting into a tramcar. They were promptly arrested and caned.

At Birkenhead about 400 boys struck; and their leader addressing
them in one of the streets, told them
to imitate their fathers, "who got their rights a few weeks ago."

And at Colchester, about 50 miles from London a number of boys of the largest council school paraded the town, armed with sticks slinging "Britons never, never shall be slaves."

It has been stated with much reason that the great success of the industrial strikes in England was in a large measure due to the exceptionally fine summer weather of this year. The school children were however not so fortunate. It seemed as if Jupiter Pluvius disapproved of their proceedings and in several cases sent a downpour of heavy rain, which is said to have contributed much to the failure of the juvenile strikes.

Let it be noted to the credit of the gentler sex that none of the girls took part in these escapades.

Yet another class of juvenile strikers appeared at Hastings, the ever popular and fashionable seaside town
on the South coast. It was church choir boys this time, and most of the boys decided to strike for an increase of pay. At a certain evening service
eight of them refused to don their surplices unless the formal demand made to the choir master was granted. The good man declined to consider the matter and the strikers left the church.
There is much food for reflection in
these doings of the rising generation,
but we must hope for the best.

Anglican.

PERSONAL ITEMS

Mr. and Mrs. Simeon Grant and their son Lorin spent a few days in Glendale last week, en route from Nebraska to Wasco, Cal., where they will locate near their son, E. K. Grant.

Mrs. A. W. Tower, Mrs. Clarence Newcomb and Mrs. F. Grosvenor will be guests at the reciprocity reception
of the Cosmos Club which will be held November 22 in the Ebell Club house.

Rev. S. L. Ward visited San Diego
Sunday of last week. He also traveled as far as Lakeside, where he preached. At the former place he spent a couple of days pleasantly with old friends.

Mr. W. S. Sloan, Miss Jennie C.
Sloan and Miss Cecelia B. Harris have removed from 1331 West Seventh street, Glendale, to their new home at 212 North Louise street, which they recently purchased.

Dr. Matt S. Hughes, recognized as one of the most intellectual and interesting orators of California, will speak on the subject, "The Fine Art of Living," at Filger's Hall, Nov. 10, 8:00 o'clock. Admission, 25 cents. Hear him.

Next Tuesday, the 14th, Julius Kranz, the talented young violinist of North Glendale, will play for the Tuesday Afternoon Club a violin solo, "Legende" by Wieniowski. He will be accompanied by Mrs. Matthew B.
Jones. Julius Kranz is now studying under Prof. Arnold Krauss, the well-known violinist of Los Angeles, who predicts a great future for him.

Mr. W. B. Kirk has just returned from an eight weeks' business trip,
getting as far south as Galveston,
Texas. On his return via the Central Pacific, at Winnemucca, Nev., he encountered Dr. Henry, who went to that place about a month ago with the intention of staying a year or so at work in the mission field. The doctor has already made a large number of friends in his new field of usefulness,
and will undoubtedly make his influence felt for good.

Wednesday of last week Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Sherer were entertained at dinner by Mr. and Mrs. Eugene C.
Frank at their home on Eagle Rock Road. The evening was delightfully spent in an inspection of the many rare and beautiful works of art collected in various parts of the world by Mr. Frank, and in the enjoyment of the work of Mr. Frank's brush and pencil, for he is an indefatigable and enthusiastic artist, his large studio being adorned with many of his works,
presenting a great variety of subjects.

The Bank of Glendale

Government statistics show that of the money expended in this country for "living expenses" only 14 per cent is expended for "necessities."

This is good food for reflection from an economic viewpoint, yet regardless of the ratio of "necessities" and "luxuries," it is good policy and system to have ALL expenses pass through your BANK ACCOUNT, thereby keeping an accurate record for a convenient reference. The endorsed check shows the complete transaction. It is the modern method.

This may be the opportune time for you to open an account with us.

and the entire compensation of said election officers is hereby fixed at $3.00 each.

Sec. 3. Upon the ballots to be used at said election there shall be printed the words "For Consolidation" and "Against Consolidation" on separate lines, and there shall be a voting square at the right of and opposite to each such proposition. Electors in said City of Glendale are hereby directed to vote upon the proposition of the proposed consolidation by stamping a cross (X) in the voting square at the right of and opposite to the proposition upon said ballot for which he desires to vote. If an elector shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after and opposite to the printed words "For Consolidation," his vote shall be counted in favor of consolidation; if he shall stamp a cross (X) in the voting square after and opposite to the printed words "Against Consolidation" his vote shall be counted against consolidation.

Sec. 4. The polls for said election shall be opened at six o'clock of the morning of said day and shall be kept open until six o'clock of the afternoon of said day, when the polls shall be closed; provided, however, that if, at the hour of closing there are any voters in the polling place or in line at the door, who are qualified to vote and have not been able to do so since appearing, the polls shall be kept open a sufficient time to enable them to vote. But no one who shall arrive at the polling place after six o'clock in the afternoon shall be entitled to vote although the polls may be open when he arrives.

Except as otherwise provided in the resolution or by law the ballots used at such election and the holding and conducting of such election shall be in conformity, as near as may be, with the general laws of the State concerning general elections.

Sec. 5. The City Clerk shall certify to the passage of said Resolution and shall give notice of the same by publishing at least once a week for four successive weeks prior to such election, in the GLENDALE NEWS, a newspaper printed, published, and circulated in said City of Glendale, which is hereby designated for that purpose; and no other notice of said election shall be given or required.

DARWINISM DYING. IS UNSCIENTIFIC.

The Fixity of Species Is Established.

"The Life Is in the Blood"—"Sins Visited Upon the Children Unto the Third and Fourth Generation."

Mid-Ocean, October 8.—Pastor Russell is en route for his fall visit to his London charge, full of vigor. Crossing the ocean loses no time for him. He is accompanied by his stenographer, Mr. Kutherford, and through the newspapers preaches weekly to about twelve millions in the United States, Canada, Great Britain and Australia. His text today was, "For the life of the flesh is in the blood; and I have given it to you upon the altar as an atonement for your souls."—Leviticus xvii, 11.

The trend of all scholars within the past forty years in particular, has been away from the Bible. Even those few who still contend for the Bible concede much to the Higher Critics and merely strive to retain a hold upon certain shreds of truth. The Bible is suffering at the hands of Christendom. Or perhaps we would better say, Christendom is suffering from letting loose its hold upon the Bible. The Bible theory, that all the sin and death manifest in the world resulted from Adam's disobedience, is now generally denied. Consequently those who still preach a forgiveness of sins and an escape from the penalty of sin are in the minority. And those who admit that the death of Jesus was necessary as a sin-offering, that the atonement, are extremely rare.

Darwin's Evolution theory, that man sprang from a monkey parentage and has been evolving higher and higher for thousands of years, finds apparent support in the rapid growth of intelligence during the past fifty years. But those who heed the Bible find a more satisfactory explanation in its teaching, that we are in the dawning of a New Dispensation—the Messianic period so long promised of God at the time in which all the families of the earth will be blessed.

The Blood of Atonement

The Bible theory of man's sin and condemnation to death and of a redemption of Adam's race from the power of death by the blood of Jesus is one consistent narrative. Because one man alone was the original sinner and the sentence came by one, therefore it was possible for Divine mercy to arrange that by the sacrifice of the Righteous One, the just for the unjust, the entire race of Adam might be judicially freed from the death sentence and be permitted to have a resurrection from the dead and the opportunity of restitution and to approve themselves to God for everlasting life.

This, the Bible theory, lays the whole stress of salvation upon the work of our Redeemer. By it a way of life through resurrection and restitution has been opened up. This is the meaning of our text and is fully concurred in by the Apostle, who says, "Almost all things are by the Law purged with blood; and without shedding of blood is no remission" of sins.

Latest Deductions of Science

Scientists now learn not only that different species will not amalgamate, but that different breeds of the same species crossed cannot be maintained, but will revert again to their originals in the third or fourth generation. Undoubtedly this was what troubled Mr. Darwin in his rearing of fancy breeds of pigeons and his inability to maintain the fancy varieties. The same principle is found everywhere at work. Different varieties of peas crossed have produced new varieties only to return in the third or fourth generation to their originals.

Moreover Dr. Thompson proclaims that he finds, in full harmony with our text, that the life is in the blood and that by blood reaction it can readily be determined which animals belong to a certain species and which do not. The custom heretofore has been to classify animals by their bones and nature, which has always been more or less unsatisfactory. The blood is now found to be the sure test and the speedy one.

Third and Fourth Generation

Notice, said Pastor Russell, a text which always seemed to us hard and cruel, but which we find, on the contrary, to be merciful and gracious. It reads, "I am a jealous God, visiting the iniquities of the parents upon the children unto the third and fourth generation of them that hate Me."

The life is in the blood. The law of heredity carries impurity and disease through the blood in micro-organisms. Were it not for the Divine provision that these small organisms of disease or blood impurity will die out in the third or fourth generation, our race long since would have been wiped off the face of the earth. The Divine arrangement that infectious germ diseases such as syphilis will die out in the third or fourth generation is a most merciful one.

Thus God shows mercy unto thousands of them that love Him and seek to keep the Divine commands. Thus the theories of man crumble, one after another as the decades slip by and as they have been doing for centuries.

Secret Baseball Signals.

"Perhaps you never realized that there is an exact science in coaching and signaling," says Hugh S. Fullerton, writing on the secret tricks of baseball coaching in the American Magazine; "that the two men out there near first and third bases, who seem to be making fools of themselves or trying to annoy the majestic man in blue serge, are the wigwag men signaling to runners or batters just what the general sitting on the bench wants them to try to do. Sometimes the general is on the lines himself, looking just as foolish as the wigwag men or more so, but somewhere, hidden in his meaningless or hackneyed phrases or his wild gestures, there is a meaning. He is telling the batter not to hit the next ball or to bunt it or informing him that the next will be a straight fast ball and at the same time informing the base runner that the batter intends to hit and that he must start at top speed when the pitcher starts to wind up."

Salt Water Bathing.

Dr. Copeman of Brighton, England, writing in the Practitioner, London, gives some advice on sea bathing. "The best time to bathe is about two hours after breakfast, the period of greatest vital activity," says Dr. Copeman. "The one time which must be avoided by all is after a full meal. During the process of digestion the vessels of the internal organs are already engorged with blood, and the shock of the cold water is apt to produce a very dangerous condition of congestion, the least of many penalties that may accrue being an acute attack of indigestion. With many keen bathers it is an article of faith to bathe before breakfast. But business men, after months of unremitting toil, those who are below par or who are getting on in years, should avoid taxing their system by bathing at such a time. Even the most robust would be wise to partake of a cup of hot milk before leaving the house."

Salt.

Salt production is about the oldest industry in the world. In Italy, the cradle of the salt industry, it has been manufactured commercially for 2,500 years. Salt is so necessary to existence that in some parts of the world tribes will sell the members of their families in exchange for salt. Salt has been the cause of wars, and so important has it always been considered that in some places the passing of salt is established as a token of friendship, and women throw salt on a visitor as a friendly greeting. In some countries salt is so scarce that it is obtained through the sales of grasses and a species of palm and other plants. While salt is produced in almost every country in the world, it is stated that nowhere can salt of such purity be obtained as in Louisiana.—Manufacturers' Record.

A Real Gas Plant.

There are two varieties of gas plant. One is a manufacturing establishment where coal is converted into gas for illuminating and heating purposes. The other variety is a real growing plant called the fraxinella. Few know why the fraxinella is called the "gas plant." This is because at certain times it releases a volatile oil that actually ignites if allowed to come in contact with a lighted match. The fraxinella is also noted for its fragrance and longevity if not disturbed. One plant in a New England garden is doing its best to outlive a third generation, and elsewhere a clump is still flourishing after no less than thirty-seven years on a grave—one of the most difficult of places for a perennial to keep up a long struggle for existence, let alone a normal life.—New York World.

Gifted.

"I don't know what I'm ever going to make of that son of mine," complained a prominent Cleveland business man the other day. The old chap is self-made, a graduate of the university of hard knocks and all that, and it naturally grieves him to have a son who is not aggressive.

"Maybe your son hasn't found himself yet," we consoled. "Isn't he gifted in any way?"

"Gifted? I should say he is! He ain't got a darned thing that wasn't given to him."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Big William Penn.

The statue of William Penn at the city hall in Philadelphia weighs thirty tons and is thirty-seven feet high. Some other dimensions are: Hat rim, twenty-three feet in circumference; nose, thirteen inches long; eyes, twelve inches long and four inches wide; hair, four feet long; arms, twelve feet six inches long; waist, twenty-four feet in circumference; legs, from ankle to knee, ten feet; calf, eight feet eight inches in circumference.

Beats a Good Wife.

An orator holding forth in favor of woman—dear, divine, woman—concluded thus:

"Oh, my friends, depend upon it, nothing beats a good wife." "I beg your pardon," replied a woman. "Sure, a bad husband always does."—London Telegraph.

Early Rising.

The difference between rising in the morning at 5 and 7 o'clock in the space of forty years—supposing a man to go to bed at the same hour at night—is nearly equivalent to the addition of ten years to a life of three-score years and ten.

Where is the man who has the power and skill to stem the torrent of a woman's will?—Old English Proverb.

Riding a Giraffe.

General Wood of the English army was the hero of many adventures, but the one he called the strangest in the time he rode a giraffe in India. With a party of friends he was being entertained by the rajah of Jowra, who exhibited his rare collection of wild animals to his guests. General (then Major) Wood was a daring horseman and on a wager offered to ride the giraffe with no bridle save a rope. The rajah warned him of the danger, but he would not listen. So the giraffe was brought to a balcony, from which the major vaulted on its back. Instantly the great creature was off like the wind, and, once fairly started, it settled down into a curious gallop that soon made the rider so sick and dizzy that he fell off like a log, receiving a blow on the head from the animal's knee and then in the face from its foot. He was unconscious for an hour, and the first use he made of his voice was to resolve that he would never ride a giraffe again.

Morgan as a Mathematician.

J. F. Morgan was almost bred a mathematician. While at Gottingen Morgan specialized in mathematics, and with the professor of mathematics he would spend long hours at problems. Some years ago a number of New Yorkers who had been at the Gottingen university together held a dinner and invited their old professor of mathematics, who happened to be visiting this country, to be present. The German stood his ground—he gave them his own idea. Looking at Mr. Morgan, he said that he was indeed very glad his old pupil had succeeded so well as a banker. "But I regret," he went on, "that you did not remain at the university. Had you stayed with me you would have been my assistant as long as I lived, and unquestionably at my death you would have been appointed professor of mathematics in my place."—Metropolitan Magazine.

Dust Whirls.

Seaward flowing waters are not alone responsible for the denudation of soils. Those who have watched dark dust storms approaching will be interested to know that estimates of solid material suspended in the air run from 100 to 120,000 tons per cubic miles of air where such storms are prevalent. The soilian geologist, Udden, taking conservative values, and using fairly accurate data for the number, velocity and duration of the dust storms in the western states, concluded that "on the average about 800,000,000 tons of dust are carried 1,440 miles each year, thus doing in this region alone about 1,225,000,000,000 mile tons of transport." The dust whirls run each an average distance of 215 miles.

Millepedes.

The little creature which possesses the distinction of having more legs than any other animal is that which belongs to the family of insects known as millepedes or thousand footed. There are several different species of these, but they all possess the common characteristic of having segmented bodies, each segment of which is provided with its own pair of feet. These are set so closely along the body as to resemble hairs, and when they move one after another with perfect regularity the effect is precisely the same on a small scale as that of a field of oats undulating under the influence of the wind. Some species of millepedes have as many as 350 separate and distinct legs. They are all perfectly harmless.

Encouragement Enough.

"But why should you be so dreadfully surprised and disappointed when I decline your offer?" she asked recently. "I am certain that I never gave you the least encouragement to propose to me."

"You did!" he cried bitterly. "You gave me the greatest encouragement."

"When?"

"When you told me your income was $25,000 a year."—Cleveland Plain Dealer.

Sarcastic Wills.

One eccentric Frenchman directed that a new cooking recipe should be pasted on his tomb every day, and another Frenchman, who was a lawyer, left $50,000 to a lunatic asylum, declaring that it was simply an act of restitution to the clients who were insane enough to employ his services.

Staging a Play.

"I can give you the part of a butler."

"I couldn't take a small part like that."

"You are evidently not used to society drama. The butler has his share of the epigrams."—Pittsburg Post.

His Intentions.

Mrs. Rasher—Has Mr. Goldstein, with whom you have been dancing all the evening, at last declared his intentions, Mabel? Mabel—Yes, aunt. Mrs. Rasher—I am so glad. And what did he say? Mabel—He declared he would never marry.—Vogue.

Trinidad's Pitch Lake.

All efforts to ascertain the depth of the famous pitch lake of Trinidad has been unsuccessful. At the sides of the lake the pitch is hard and cold, but at the center it is almost constantly boiling.

Happiness.

Happiness is rather a negative than a positive term in this world and consists more in the absence of some things than in the presence of others.—Sam Slick.

Fine manners need the support of fine manners in others.—Emerson.

Gilbert's Way Remembered.
The old Harrow Inn, says a writer in the Manchester Guardian, in 1872 the people of the town got up theatricals to raise funds for a hospital. Dr. Butler, the head master, said he would not allow the school to go unless the pieces were first submitted to him. One was Gilbert's "Palace of Truth." It is a passage in which the hero says to the heroine, "Meet me at 9 o'clock tonight outside the garden gate." Dr. Butler vetoed this and substituted, "Meet me at 3 o'clock this afternoon." This seemed to him more decorous. Some years after Gilbert was invited to the Harrow speeches. In reply to the toast of his health he said, "I am very much interested in visiting Harrow, for as far as I know it is the only place in the world where a line of mine has ever been condemned as improper." Great consternation prevailed—all the greater because no one except the speaker and one other person, who was just leaving Harrow in 1872, knew what he meant. It was not Gilbert's way to forget these things.

Somewhat Absentminded.
Some amusing glimpses of the discoverer of chloroform are given in the "Recollections of Lady Priestly," wife of Simpson's assistant at the time of the discovery. "The professor," she writes, "used to make his experiments with chloroform on his girls, and with some of the liquid just poured on a handkerchief would have laid a dozen of us lying about in various stages of sleep. Our mother feared nothing and was only too delighted to sacrifice, if unavoidable, a daughter or two to science! He was extremely absentminded. I remember once jumping at his house when he had just arrived from some antiquarian expedition. The butler, who had been unpacking his things, came in and said confidentially, 'Doctor, you have left all your flannel vests behind! Ah! Oh!' replied Simpson, feeling himself all over. 'I've got them all on.'—Pall Mall Gazette.

Ooping the Baby.
"At the first sign of an attempt to standardize and sterilize the babies," says Ellis Parker Butler in Success Magazine, "I organized the Oop-de-baby Association of America. For thousands of years fathers have been permitted to oop-de-baby unrestrained; and this right was one of the first rights attacked by the advocates of the automatic baby. I considered it a double blow at the baby and at the father and resented it as such. If a father may not oop his own baby, what is the world coming to? Ooping a baby is a father's greatest pleasure. It is the act of grasping the baby under the arms, tossing the baby into the air and catching it on its down trip, while the words 'Oop-de-baby' are repeated at each toss. This is repeated until the baby is hysterical or drops on the floor by accident. It is then handed to its mother."

Bones Stronger Than Oak.
The wonderful power of bone structure has been tested scientifically to show how that hollow bone bears strain. A very small bone, only one square millimeter (.0155 square inch) in diameter, will hold thirty-three pounds in suspension without breaking, while a piece of the best oak of the same thickness will hold up only twenty-two pounds. The bone is therefore half again as strong as the solid oak, thus showing that nature is economical in the weight given to bones, making them hollow and at the same time makes them stronger than if they were solid and much heavier. This principle has been recognized in mechanics, engineers using hollow steel tubes instead of solid to meet great strain.—New York World.

Tobacco in Vienna.
"They have a way of asking a stranger when he comes to Vienna," says a letter from that city, "who is the largest, the most reliable, the smallest, the best and the worst dealer in cigars and cigarettes in Vienna?" Of course the stranger does not know the answer, and the native tells him triumphantly, 'The government.' The government has the monopoly, and every person employed in a tobacco shop—they call them 'trafik'—is a government employee."

Presence of Mind.
"Our love is opposed and we are destined to be unhappy all our lives. Let's commit suicide and die together. She—All right, darling. I couldn't live without you. He—How shall we do it? She—Don't you think ice cream promenades would be about the quickest way?—Burlington News.

The Thing to Get At.
Chief Counsel—The first thing to do is to get at the root of this trouble. Associate Counsel—The root of the trouble is the late Mr. Bigwad's fortune. Chief Counsel—Exactly, and we must get at it.—New York Tribune.

Woman's Method.
"Mr. Floorwalker, I wish you would give me a clerk who can show me what I want."
"And what do you want, madam?"
"How do I know until I have looked?"—Houston Post.

A Sure Way.
Ethel—Their parents made the match, I believe. Arthur—I thought they opposed it? Ethel—Yes; that's how they made it.—Philadelphia Bulletin.

No, Indeed.
Just because a man wants but little here below is no sign that he has anything coming to him on high.—Galveston News.

Dr. Johnson and Fruit.
The return of the strawberry season was always heartily welcomed by Dr. Johnson, for, as he once declared, of strawberries and cream he never could have too much. Fortunately he sometimes had opportunity to indulge his taste to the full, for his friend, Dr. Taylor of Lichfield, whom he contrived when possible to visit at strawberry time, was rather a noted grower, and when at his house it was, as Johnson said, with gusto, "Strawberries and cream, toujours strawberries and cream!" A voracious eater at any time, Johnson's appetite for fruit was almost limitless. Mrs. Thrale tells us that he used often to eat half a dozen peaches before breakfast, and then frequently she had heard him complain that never in all his life had he quite as much wall fruit as he desired, save once. The exceptional occasion was during a visit to Lord Sandys' seat at Ombersay. The exact quantity he then devoured has not been recorded, but he was accused of clearing a whole wall side.—Pall Mall Gazette.

The Light of Crystals.
All diamonds do not shine in the dark after exposure to sunlight or electric light, but some do to a remarkable degree. A diamond rubbed with a woolen cloth or against a hard surface will sometimes shine brilliantly. The emission of light is a property belonging to many if not all kinds of crystals. A variety of white marble found at Hastings-on-the-Hudson, N. Y., gives out a flame colored glow when pounded and bright flashes when scratched with steel. In northern New York is found a kind of stone known locally as "hell fire rock," which exhibits bright sulphur colored streaks when scratched in the dark. Pieces of rose quartz rubbed together exhibit brilliant flashes, sometimes bright enough to illuminate the hands of the person holding them. Smoked quartz and other varieties sometimes show a similar phenomenon.—Chicago Record-Herald.

Not Lively.
Anna Maria Wilhelmína Pickersins, in her memoirs, edited by her son, tells a Yorkshire incident which contains a great deal of human nature. Variety gives life. The plan is monotonous until its extent entitles it to the name of prairie or desert and it gains interest through vastness. There was an old couple in the village whom I used often to go to see. One day when I found them sitting, one on each side of the fire, the old man said to me: "Well, I'missed and me, we've been married nigh on fifty years, and we're never had one quarrel!" The old woman looked at me with a twinkle in her eye and said: "It war varie conscientious, but varie dool!"

The Bloody Hand.
The noted English family of the Holtes has for its badge a bloody hand, and this sinister badge commemorates a wager that ended in a crime. Sir Thomas Holte one day in 1612 was hunting. He invited his comrades home with him to dinner, and as he rode along he made a heavy bet on his cook's punctuality. But the cook failed him for once. When he got home dinner was not ready. The jeers of his companions at this failure, together with his huge loss in the matter of the wager, enraged him so that he ran into the kitchen, seized a cleaver and split the cook's head open with it. Afterward his family, to keep this crime alive, adopted for its crest the bloody hand of the cook killer.

An Eskimo's Dwelling.
We do not look for any great amount of inventive genius among the Eskimos, but for years they have employed a rather complete respirator, used in the preparation and taking of a vapor bath, as a means of protection from the dense smoke. This Eskimo respirator is a little basket woven of twisted strands of the grass. It is placed with its shallow side against the mouth, and a wooden peg, which arises from the center of the basket, is held between the teeth. For this purpose water is evaporated over a big fire in a very low hut, which is tightly closed to keep in the heat. In this stifling atmosphere the employment of a respirator is absolutely necessary.—London Globe.

The Tyrolean.
You may find the artistic temperament among the peasants in the villages of Bavaria Tyrol. They talk still of the King Ludwig, who lavished money on palaces and died an insane suicide and murderer. You remind them that they are still paying off the debts of the mad king. They reply cheerfully that they are glad of it, for Ludwig loved music and gave us Wagner.—London Chronicle.

A Stirring Appeal.
The following epistle was sent by an angry tenant to his landlord:
Dear Sir—I want them, seller steps fixed right off. My wife fed down last nite and like to broke her blame neck. Please send blumber and fags our bath tub it will soon be time now for us to use him agen and oblige. Yours truly,
—Everybody's.

Meals and Medicine.
Doctor—You are debilitated. Take one of these pills three times a day before meals. Poet—If I could get the meals I wouldn't need the pills.—Town Topics.

Thought Reading.
"Can I see you apart for a moment?"
"You mean alone, don't you?"
"Exactly. I want the loan of a liver."—London Bystander.

THE PACIFIC MONTHLY.
The Pacific Monthly of Portland, Oregon, is publishing a series of splendid articles about the various industries in the West. The September number contained an article on Success with Cherries. The October number had a beautiful illustrated article on Success in Growing Apples. Other articles, shortly to appear, are on Success with Live Stock, Success in Growing Walnuts, Success with Fodder Crops. These articles are written by experts, and are not only authoritative, but very interesting. In addition to the above, The Pacific Monthly each month publishes a large number of wholesome, readable stories and strong independent articles on the questions of the day. The price of The Pacific Monthly is $1.50 a year. To introduce it to new readers, it will be sent for six months for 50 cents if this paper is mentioned. Address: Pacific Monthly, Portland, Oregon.

TROPICO

Miss Alma Stone has accepted a position as bookkeeper with the Tropico Mercantile company.

Cover Melrose arrived in Tropico last Friday and expects to remain here for the next two weeks.

Mrs. Bryson of Glendale avenue entertained a number of Los Angeles friends at her home Wednesday.

Mrs. J. C. Brown left last Saturday for an extended visit to Chicago and St. Louis, where she will visit with friends and relatives.

Little Joey Seaman, who has been sick at his home on Central avenue with a case of chicken pox, has just about recovered.

After a visit of several weeks at Elmore Springs, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Maxwell have returned to their home on Park avenue.

Hal Davenport took a party of East Side friends to Los Angeles in his Stanley steamer last Saturday night to see the desert racers start on their hard trip.

Mrs. Fannie Marple Retts of Los Angeles, formerly of this place, has been quite ill for the past two weeks at her home. She is however, recovering slowly.

A first-class harness shop has been added to the business houses of Tropico. It has been opened in the business district by J. S. Ferguson of Muscatine, Iowa.

Miss Freda Borthick entertained a number of young lady friends at her home on Seventh street Saturday evening. The young ladies present tell us that they had a "wonderfully good time."

Edward H. Weston of the Weston Studio, won first prize this month in American photography of Boston in an open-to-the-world competition. Second prize went to Dr. Ruzicka of New York, and third prize to Hitoaki Yabashi of Tokio, Japan.

Rev. C. B. Hatch was taken very ill at the morning church service last Sunday. So much so that he was unable to finish his discourse. He was taken to his home in Andy Stevenson's auto. At last reports he is much improved.

That there will be considerable opposition to the consolidation movement in this city was shown at a recent meeting of some of the citizens, where a committee of three was appointed to take charge of the campaign to resist consolidation. There promises to be spirited times in store for the Tropico people.

Dr. and Mrs. Conrad and Mr. and Mrs. Burt Oiler of Los Angeles, enjoyed a pleasant auto trip in Dr. Conrad's machine last Saturday and Sunday. On Saturday they went to Riverside, remaining there over night, and Sunday they continued on to Redlands, staying there a while and afterward returning home Sunday evening.

There will be the regular services at the Tropico Methodist church next Sunday. In the morning the pastor will preach from the subject, "The Rest of Faith," and in the evening from "The Great Victory that Seemed Improbable." There will be special music by the church choir. Everyone is invited to attend these services. Rev. S. W. Carnes is pastor.

Miss Blanche Davenport entertained Misses Lucille Bettanier of Pasadena and Lucille Pittman of North Glendale Friday evening. Saturday evening Misses Bernice Snively and Olive Savers were entertained at the Davenport home. Miss Snively, who has been visiting in this locality for the past few weeks, returned to her home in Oxnard early in the week.

Last Friday evening while attending the Lyceum theater on Spring street, Los Angeles, Dr. A. O. Conrad left his automobile standing near the front of the theater. When he and his party started home after the show it was found that some one had stolen a medical case and a satchel of surgical instruments from the machine. The affair was reported to the police, but as yet nothing has been heard of the stolen property.

A party consisting of Mr. and Mrs. J. H. Parker of Glendale, Mr. and Mrs. H. Davenport and Allen Davenport, Mr. and Mrs. F. E. Peters and Mrs. Moltaire of this place, started for Long Beach last Friday. On the way they experienced so much trouble with the choo-choo wagons that they landed at the beach too late to be admitted on the warships, which they went down to see. Andrew Stevenson and wife and W. G. Black and wife also constituted a party which went to the beach to see the battleships.

A farewell family dinner party was given by Mrs. George Ballentyne, who will leave soon for Van Nuys, to members of her family at her home on Glendale avenue Saturday evening. The dinner consisted of a six-course repast and the affair proved extremely pleasant to those attending. Roses and smilax were utilized to pretty effect in the decorations of the rooms and tables. The guests present included Dr. and Mrs. Chester Magee and family of Los Angeles, Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Ballentyne, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Ballentyne and family, Mr. and Mrs. Will Corum of Glendale.

WEST GLENDALE

A little daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. E. Colby is quite ill.

Eight new pupils this week for the West Glendale school.

Mr. and Mrs. A. J. Klein and child dren spent a few days last week with friends in Long Beach.

Mr. Weber and family, recently of Casa Verdugo, now occupy a residence at 525 Central avenue.

Mrs. Clyde H. Boyd and baby daughter are at home again after spending the past few weeks in San Pedro.

Mr. Hackbarth and family have moved into the house, 1610 West Fifth street, just west of the M. E. church.

Chas. Foy and son, Roy, of Santa Ana, were guests last week of Ellis Foy and family at 1515 West Fourth street.

Mr. W. J. Ludlow, sr., of San Fernando, was the dinner guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. L. Russ of Burchett street on Sunday.

Mr. Eberhardt, wife and daughter, of Laramie, Wyo., who have been visiting at 1118 West Ninth street, returned home Tuesday.

Dr. Rand, of the St. Helena sanitarium, has bought the Shively place, 1438 Vine street. Mr. Shively and family have moved to the adjoining house.

Mr. and Mrs. Nylin and family, who have been occupying the bungalow of C. Frank Smith for the past three months, have removed to their former home, Vermont Square, Los Angeles.

Mrs. E. O. Williams and little daughter Elizabeth of Ulica, N. Y., arrived in Glendale recently and intend to spend the winter with her sister, Mrs. J. J. Schremp, 1442 West Fourth street.

Mrs. William Reithmaier of 1561 W. Seventh street, has sold that property to Mr. Capple, who will move in next week. Mrs. Reithmaier will go to Los Angeles for a while, but will probably return to Glendale soon and rebuild on the lot she still owns.

Miss McPeak, a popular teacher in the West Glendale school, has on account of ill health, tendered her resignation. Although she has been teaching but a short time, she has given excellent satisfaction and made many friends throughout the district all of whom regret to part with her. At present the position is filled by a professional substitute.

For the benefit of persons intending to build in the newly annexed territory, it is stated that permits are required to be taken out on all new buildings or additions. J. M. Banker at city hall is building inspector. The fees are a minimum of $1.00 which covers anything up to $500; $1.50 up to $1000 and fifty cents for every additional thousand dollars valuation.

Plumbing and electrical permits must also be taken out, these generally being attended to by the person who does the work.

WEST GLENDALE M. E. CHURCH.

Next Sabbath will be the first quarterly meeting. Dr. F. D. Mather, district superintendent, will preach in the morning, followed by the communion service. The pastor will preach in the evening at 7:30. Epworth League at 6:30. Quarterly conference on the evening of November 15th at 7:30.

MARRIED.

Mr. Jesse Stine and Miss Ursula Goldsworthy were quietly married Saturday last at the residence of Rev. C. A. Norton in Glendale, who performed the ceremony. Both are well known in the valley. Mr. Stine has been a resident here many years. The bride is a daughter of John Goldsworthy, a former county surveyor of this county, one of the well-known pioneers of Los Angeles. She was formerly chief operator for the Sunset Telephone Co. in Glendale. Mr. and Mrs. Stine are at home to their friends at their residence on Fourth street west of Pacific.

MERELY A LITTLE JAUNT.

Mr. A. Hackbarth, president of the Lapwal Lumber Co., of Lewiston, Idaho, accompanied by his wife and children, arrived in Glendale a few days since, making the entire trip in their handsome touring car, a Cadillac. Counting stop-overs at numerous places on the road through Portland and San Francisco, the Sacramento valley and other places, the trip was made in three weeks, and without an accident of any kind, barring one puncture of an inner tube. The weather was grand the entire way, and Mr. Hackbarth wishes it stated that the roads were in the very best condition—simply fine.

The trip was unusually pleasant, all parties concerned being in good health. After remaining in Glendale for about six weeks or so, the party will journey on to Arizona, and other places. Mr. Hackbarth and family were here about a year ago, stopping then with Miss Purinton, corner Orange and Fourth streets. He has driven his car over four thousand miles and the only accident in all those miles was two inner tube punctures, which speaks very well for the car itself, the driver and the condition of the roads over which the car was driven.

CASA VERDUGO

Mr. Spencer of the Brand Boulevard Garage is rejoicing over the arrival of the Overland automobiles, for which he is the agent.

A small building has been put up on Dryden street, opposite the Pepper Tree Inn, which will be occupied as a combined barber shop and candy store.

Mr. W. E. Evans, city attorney, who has been visiting his old Kentucky home, returned to Glendale last week, and was at his post of duty at the meeting of the trustees Monday evening. Mr. Evans reports having had an enjoyable visit.

The county has advertised for bids on the building of a bridge over the wash on Brand boulevard at Arden avenue. It is to be a pile trestle structure, and will probably be put in place as soon as possible. The railroad company has been dumping rock along the north bank of the wash along the Burbank extension between Brand and Central, and presumably intends to protect as well as possible its right of way in that manner against possible floods.

At a well attended meeting of the Casa Verdugo Improvement Association Wednesday evening of last week the principal business of the evening was the school question. There was considerable difference of opinion, some favoring consolidation for school purposes with Glendale city, others wanting to annex to La Crescenta, so as to cut off from there later, and the majority, as it proved after several motions and amendments, favoring the establishment of a new district comprising that portion of the Glendale district east of Central avenue with the remainder of the West Glendale district outside of the Glendale city limits. A committee was appointed to meet the Glendale trustees at Superintendent Keppel's office and thresh the matter out. This they did, but without arriving at any conclusion. Another meeting will be held, and meanwhile there is considerable difference of opinion among the people as to the best course to take.

AT EAGLE ROCK

First Annual Flower Show a Great Success

The enterprising ladies of the Twentieth Century Club of Eagle Rock gave a flower show in Symphony Hall last Saturday, which they expect to repeat annually hereafter. The hall is not adapted to an extensive display, but the quality of it was all that could be desired. The hall was filled with chrysanthemums, dahlias, roses, asters and autumn annuals artistically arranged.

The chrysanthemums were most in evidence, and the display of that queen of all the late season's blooms was a very fine one. Godfrey Edwards had a blue ribbon on his exhibit of five varieties, and he was also awarded the first prize for his display of the white variety. Mr. Merasco came in with a close second on several fine bouquets, while Mr. Guthrie showed a splendid collection of the light pink. Other exhibitors had bouquets almost as fine as those to which prizes were awarded. After the chrysanthemums, the great variety of dahlias exhibited was the feature of the show. Howard & Smith of Los Angeles had over a hundred varieties on exhibition, many of them of their own development and not yet named. J. J. Broomall, a local professional, had a display almost as large and interesting. A collection of golden zinnias attracted much attention, and some new varieties of iris were greatly admired. M. L. Anderson of Glendale had a fine display of chrysanthemums and asters, with some artistic and beautiful set pieces of flowers. Even the old reliable hollyhock of our childhood was present in blooms of delicate beauty.

Altogether the exhibition was beautiful and interesting, and the ladies deserve great praise for its success. Future events will no doubt be looked forward to with interest, and become a feature of great attractiveness in the life of this attractive little city of homes.

LOS ANGELES THEATRES

"NEARLY A HERO."

Grand Opera House.

For the production of "Nearly a Hero," which Ferris Hartman and his associates will make at the Grand Opera House, beginning with the matinee Sunday, imported Parisian gowns valued at $10,000 will be used. These gowns were purchased by Manager Kavanaugh last week from the Los Angeles branch of the Mary Anderson Warner Shop. "Nearly a Hero" is the vehicle which Sam Bernard, famous comedian, used successfully for two seasons. Mr. Hartman will have a part to his liking which will give him unlimited opportunities for fun-making. He will be seen as Ludwig Knoedler, a German tailor, whose peculiar dialect and funny speeches are a comedy source of merriment to everybody with whom he comes in contact. Numerous catchy waltz numbers occur throughout the piece and there are any quantity of songs. The dialogue is bright and snappy and will undoubtedly make a big hit.

THE CIGARET BOY.

State Superintendent of Public Instruction Hyatt has just issued a bulletin to the teachers and school officers of the state under the title of "The Cigaret Boy." It undertakes to give some fresh Californian material to add the schools in teaching the effects of narcotics, as required by law. This bulletin is the first of a series of quarterly publications authorized by the last legislature at the request of the Woman's Christian Temperance Union.

"The Cigaret Boy" is reasonable and moderate in tone. It offers such arguments as a father who smokes would be likely to use in persuading his son to abstain. It contains a letter from the state superintendent to the boys of California, urging them to refrain from the tobacco habit until they are grown; half a dozen expressions of opinion from well-known speakers and writers of the state; and some special and original articles upon the actual effects of cigarettes upon the boys who are committed to the reform schools upon the boys in the public schools, and upon the boys who become confirmed smokers.
